Most people have an unsatisfied yearning for tranquility and peace. By taking part in one or more silent retreats, you will give yourself the opportunity to draw back from the normal business of living, reflect on your walk in life and open yourself to God.

Each retreat is facilitated by a Bield team member who will introduce ways of stilling yourself and prayer material. All ways of praying are a means to developing your relationship with God. Hopefully you will find and deepen one or more that support your inner journey.

If you come for the two or three day silent retreats you will be able to avail yourself of a retreat guide who may see you each day and help as a sounding board for you to listen for God's presence in the circumstances of your life.

There will be a chance to share some of your experience at the end of your retreat if you so wish but otherwise participants are in silence. There may be other guests around who are not in silence, but you will have support to stay in silence yourself.

Come home to yourself and then all roads will lead to home"
George Macleod

I look behind me and you're there, then up ahead and you're there too - your reassuring presence, coming and going.
